

Dudley Borough Bereavement Charter

This charter is for everyone who lives and works in the Dudley borough.

The charter will help Dudley to be a kinder and caring community.

Where people can die in a place that they choose with the people they want there.

Where we respect and value everyone and know that grief is normal.

Where everyone supports people who are grieving.

Where we listen and improve by listening to others with lived experience.

Where everyone gets access to support during bereavement.

And everyone recognises ...

That all lives are valued and respected.

That there is no right or wrong way to feel.

The value of listening when people want to talk.

The difference that love and care can make to others.

How offering kindness, practical help and support really makes a difference.

How important it is to remember and celebrate good times.

We remember and honour the lives of those who have died.

Use words kindly when we are talking about grief and bereavement.

That support is easy to get and available to those who need it.

That support from professionals should be as well as family and friends support.

That the 5 ways to wellbeing may help when we grieve.

Grief does not get smaller we get stronger and it becomes different for everyone.
